We have a problem on our hands!!! Our on-the-menu-once-in-a-while BBQ omelettes are proving to be too popular. We would like to put this on our regular menu but we make this from scratch and requires a lot of preparation. Such being the case, we do this when we happen to have the time and the ingredients on hand.

However, we will try to inform you via this page when we plan to have this on the menu again for a few days.
